To get copies:

When you select the print icon or file menu in a browser or application, a dialog box will open and prompt for a library card number and a name for the print job so you'll need a valid library card number and the name is anything you choose.

To retrieve your print, go to the reference room on the first floor and find the computer sign-up/print station at the back of the room near the bay windows.

Scan or type in your library card at that station.

Select the name of the item you want to print.

Note the amount (15 cents per page) and put money in the coin/bill machine and then click print on the screen.

Your print out has now been sent to the copy machine next to the coin/bill receptor.
